Funeral services were held Friday morning at Macedonia Methodist Church. Burial was in Macedonia Cemetery with the Southern Funeral Home of Opp in charge.

Lineup of Week: With due respect to such outstanding linemen as Thomas Prescott, Nelson, Folsom and others, Coach Galtier decided to give the nod to Roland Powell this week in his selection of an outstanding lineman.

Coach Galtier said he selected Powell because of his all-round good performance plus two outstanding plays. He returned a kickoff to a point where but for a stupid block he would have made a touchdown and then he raced from nowhere to intercept a pass which had an important bearing on the game. All of this was in spite of a bandaged hand which handicapped his ball handling.

Another pleasing feature Friday was the improved play of Flowers at quarterback.

About People and Things

By C. B. McDowell

Recovery: William Bullard Jr., who accidentally shot himself over two weeks ago has recovered to a sufficient extent to enable him to return to Kountze where he is stationed in the army.

Second Crop Prospects: Prospects of a second crop of cotton which looked favorably last week in some sections of the county are fading because of the lack of rain. Some say there is time yet for a late top crop if it rains within the next few days.

Farmer's digging peanuts report extremely light yields. A number report they are digging the vines in the hay only and will not go to the expense of harvesting the few peanuts on the vines.

On the Air: Rev. E. F. Edgar, pastor of the Elba Methodist Church, is on the air over WIRB, Enterprise, each morning this week from 9:15 to 9:30. He is president of the Coffee County Ministerial Association and directs the religious program over the radio station.

She's a Whopper: Mr. & Mrs. Wayne Parker announce the birth of a daughter at Mobile Infirmary. In writing to his parents, Mr. & Mrs. J. W. Parker, Wayne stated, "She's a whopper, she weighs 5 pounds, 11 ounces."

Rev. & Mrs. Ben Johnson announce the birth of a daughter, Sept. 21. In reporting the event to his parents, Mr. & Mrs. Fred Johnson, Ben said, "The new baby, she's the prettiest little baby I ever saw. I mean sure she's a whopper. The little miss has been named Evangeline."

Little Girl-Big Show: Foyce Ann Bowdoin, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Foy Bowdoin, furnished hilarious entertainment at the Elba-Luverne football game Friday night as a member of the Elba strutting majorettes.

Little Foyce's underpinning was too short to keep in stride with her larger colleagues, but she made up the deficiency by taking extra steps, all in perfect rhythm, her acrobatic stunts met with appreciative applause.

Marriage License: A marriage license was issued from the Elba Probate office the past week to Willie Baldwin, 42, (col), Samson Rt. 1, and Charity Lee Smith, 41, (col), Samson, Rt. 1.

City-County School Bus Tiff Carries Wide Implications

A bus transportation disagreement between the City and Coffee County school board has carried far-reaching implications over the Elba-New Brockton highway. In the neighborhood of 65 students are being transported into Elba on this bus.

ATTENDED CLASSES HERE: In explaining the city's point of view, James Wise, chairman of the Elba Board of Education, stated that students along this route had always come to school here and up until the city bus started running, some had not enrolled in classes this term. Many of them had never attended classes anywhere except in Elba, he said.

Implications of the dispute to what they may lead to are more important than the actual disagreement, however. If the Elba colored school loses the 100 or so students that were formerly carried, so classes here by the county, next year the staff of teachers will be trimmed by three. Also chances are there will not be enough teachers and over the same territory. The bus goes to Damascus, cuts over to New Brockton and comes back over the Elba-New Brockton highway. In the neighborhood of 65 students are being transported into Elba on this bus.

With the anti-segregation ruling of the Supreme Court always in the background, the problem of integrating schools could be in Elba's lap next fall. For this reason, the City Board is fighting to keep the bus running to run it on the same route as the city bus which carries children to New Brockton. The city bus is picking up children away from county schools to Elba upset and demoralized the children in the order processes of obtaining education and providing them with educational facilities. Such action caused the complainants to suffer irreparable damage and injury, not only in a financial way but to cause damage and injury to students involved, according to the complaint.

The County Board asks the County to issue a temporary injunction restraining the City Board of Education from operating a bus outside the city limits or territory immediately adjacent thereto and especially restrain them from going over parallel routes or identical routes which are now being furnished by the county board and from transporting colored children from New Brockton or vicinity and bringing them back to the negro school in Elba; that upon final hearing, the injunction be made permanent and that the court make such orders or decrees necessary to enforce the decree.

W. J. Brown, chairman of the county board, signed the complaint as being true and correct. Other county board members listed as complainants were E. C. Brooks, Dallas Wise, Frank Rainer Jr. and T. J. Harrell and R. L. Farris, county superintendent of education.

On the City Board of Education are James J. Wise, chairman; Maxwell Reeves, Ed Hendrick, Charles Hayes Jr. and Dr. E. M. Warr. S. J. Casey is superintendent of city schools.

Through the Keyhole

The only thing unnatural in this picture is that Gail Stephens is very seldom seen sitting down. And the three young Stephens are a study in perpetual motion. However, we caught them one not-too-busy afternoon and got this picture, the only one ever made of the four together.

"Home is the hero," is an old saying that could be appropriate here except that the hero of this story hasn't been home a lot lately. While Capt. Lewy Stephens keeps law and order in the land of the Badmen (Pine City) Gail stays at home to keep the same state among Lewy III, Daniel and Lucia.

When everything erupted in Russell County, Lewy and other National Guard members were called to active duty. Since that time he has been serving as the Executive Officer to Lt. Col. Jack Warren, military sheriff of Russell County, with only an occasional weekend leave. It is probable that his stay on active duty will continue until Jan. 17 when a new state of civilian law enforcement officer takes over in the county.

When we visited Gail we were ushered into the new living porch that is now the center of all activity. Johnny Mae had every surface shining and a breeze like that off the Gulf made us quite comfortable while the air conditioner stood ready if it were needed. This new room has been one of Gail's projects for the summer and it was certainly a successful one. The family eats all its meals there and the children have made it headquarters for all their play. September has been a busy month for Gail. Lewy III graduated the first grade and is completely carried away by the whole idea. The children have acquired two new puppies. Gail has been selected as one of the chairmen for the P-T-A. A Halfway Carnival and can be seen at any time dashing madly around the school building; and there is the National Guard Convention held in Miami in early October to be prepared for.

All in all Gail leads a busy life. However, we wonder if that could be her secret for happiness. As we have never seen her when she wasn't bubbling over with gaily, we know this—that whatever her secret is, it really works.

FRATERNITY

Fraternity means brotherhood and word was reached us from the Captains that Andy Kimmy has entered into the brotherhood of Pi Kappa Phi. We congratulate the Pi Kappa Phi and are sincerely looking forward to a future visit when we get to see James Anderson Kimmy cleaning out the alligator pen, a favorite pledge duty of that fraternity.

Bob Clark tells us that daughter Mary Ann has pledged Chi Omega at A.P.T. The good news came in from Alpha Beta Chapter. On Wednesday night we were received with glad shouts by the Elba alumnae. Mary Ann will be the 12th Chi Omega in Elba. Chi Omega is leader of a long line of Elba alumnae. (Whitman) Beattie, Joe Ann (Clark) King, Marjorie (Murphy) Rainier, Maggie Dean (Clark) Boyd and myself. Others no longer considered as Elba Chi Omegas although they no longer live here are Martha (Wright) Hicks, Dot (McIntire) Palms, Mary Ruth (Fleming) Perdue, Elizabeth (Fleming) Banks and Claudeau (Fleming) Chambers. We welcome you Mary Ann.

FRATERNITY

Could not help admiring young Billy English at last week's ball game. Dressed in an outfit of navy blue that any Elba man would approve of, Billy was so good it was hard to believe he's only three. Billy's cheerful disposition has made him a favorite with all who frequent his father's drug store and the school children always pause to say "Hello, Billy" and put his blonde curls as he stands guard at the door, his favorite spot.

Leroy Bowdoin, principal of Port St. Joe High School, is making good in the educational field. He was graduated from Elba High School, STC at Troy and is now studying at FSU at Tallahassee for his Doctorate. The Port St. Joe paper recently stated:

Leroy Bowdoin, principal of Port St. Joe High School, delivered an address Tuesday night at the Methodist Men's Club on "How Good is Public Education in Our Country?" Bowdoin defended the schools from the charge that the schools of today do not adequately prepare a person for an occupation.

Bowdoin stated that the reason most of the classic literature subjects have been dropped from the school curriculum is that no student would take them. He said the U. S. Public Education system is the best in the world and gave graphic comparisons with the systems of other nations. He said the world's quest for higher learning is now turning toward the United States. He said the schools of today strive to teach students self-discipline with the theory that a citizen can discipline himself by a greater contribution to society.

BUCKNER HAS GOOD START
Frank Buckner, who turned out winning football and basketball teams at Elba High School for the past three years, made an auspicious start as coach at Blakely, Ga. when his Bobcats trounced the Seminole County (Ga.) Indians, 20-0 Friday evening at Donaldsonville. There is a great rivalry between the two schools.

COUNTY GIVES $1222
Alabama has a record of $230,706.84 during the 1954 crusade of the American Cancer Society for funds to support its three-point program of education, service and research. Residents of Coffee County gave $1,222.82. Quota was $1,183. R. E. James of Enterprise was county chairman.

The Human Voice Said to Be Very Fickle Instrument

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—One of the most complex and fickle instruments in the world is the human voice, say Rutgers University engineers, who are trying to reduce it to a minimum of linguistic elements that can be incorporated in a high-speed, interference-free system of radio and telephone communications for the Army Signal Corps.

The proposed system would overcome static and other noises, even deliberate jamming, and increase channel capacity by decreasing the required frequency band width in radio and radiotelephone communications. Development of such a system would prove invaluable for intercontinental radio-telephone exchanges or even long-distance telephone service, the engineers say. The engineers are trying to code the voice in a form that is considerably simpler than the original speech. They have developed a system of coding and detecting that reduces interference and improves reception of weak signals.

Once the problem of analyzing the human voice, coding it and effectively transmitting it have been solved, the engineers say, they will then try to find a way to receive, interpret and repeat the coded message immediately in its original form, even to the degree of near-perfect imitation of the sender's voice. "The problem of simulating the sender's voice, or for that matter, characterizing the 'average' voice is one of the toughest confronting the researchers."

Mothball Fleet Is Electrified
SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—The Maritime Administration is now using electric power to keep its mothball fleet from rusting away. Many ships of the National Defense Reserve Fleet are being saved from corrosion by an "electroprotection" process devised by General Electric Electric Corp. The new process actually does electroplate the ships in a mild sort of way. Direct current from electrodes buried in the mud along the shore passes through the water to the underwater sections of the ship hulls. This makes the hulls part of an electric circuit and causes an electrochemical reaction which prevents the hulls from corroding and results in the electrodes rusting away instead.

Suicide Cave Holds Bones of Japanese
MANILA, N. I.—A Philippine constabulary officer has reported discovery of a mountain cave in which 20 Japanese World War II soldiers apparently committed mass suicide.

The cave was discovered by Lieut. Col. Diosdado Garcia, while leading a patrol after Communist Huk rebels. It is located in a dense jungle area, half a hundred air miles from Manila. Col. Garcia said a large quantity of war equipment, including eight Japanese machine guns, "already disintegrated from the rust," were found beside the skeletons.

It was assumed that the Japanese soldiers committed suicide when they were cut off from escape by the advancing United States forces during the liberation of the Philippines early in 1945.

Hearty Eater Dies At 106 Years of Age
LOUISVILLE, Ky.—A 106-year-old woman who attributed her longevity to a hearty appetite died here recently.

Mrs. Harriet Crain was born on June 13, 1847. In discussing her longevity last year, she said she always ate, and ate heartily. Her diet flouted doctor's suggestions and she sometimes ate meat three times a day and liked plenty of eggs, corn flakes, milk and coffee. She would have had nothing to do with vegetables.

Survivors included 23 grandchildren, 30 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

Unlucky Thief
MERIDEN, Conn.—A trespasser, arrested for peeping into windows, told policemen that he intended to move into the neighborhood and wanted to make sure that his prospective neighbors were quiet and decent.

This Is National Newspaper Week

It is National Newspaper Week, and we tend to boast a little just now perhaps we may be invaded. For the newspaper, which regularly devotes itself to bring news and the interpretation of news to your homes, has a message of its own. We believe that message worthy of some attention.

The American newspaper occupies a unique place in the world. Its freedom of print is guaranteed by the Constitution. It has been considered from the beginning of the Republic and from even before that—an essential instrument in the lives of the American people.

Its basic purpose has been and always will be the same: To tell the happenings of the day. Here the function is of particular importance in regards to the happenings of government, which is but an instrument of the people's will.

It has other important purposes—to serve as a medium for advertising, to entertain and amuse, to serve as a public forum. You may, and undoubtedly do, on occasion become discouraged with your newspaper or even become angry with it. Yet it is an indispensable item for intelligent living, and in more cases than is generally realized it is the most constructive and most

And a Few Quotes—
"Freedom of expression is not merely a right—in the circumstances of today, its constructive use is a stern duty."—Dwight D. Eisenhower
"So long as the truth is made available to our people, we need have no fear for the future of our democratic system."—Harry S. Truman
"Freedom of conscience, of education, of speech, of assembly, are among the very fundamentals of democracy and all of them would be nullified should freedom of the press ever be successfully challenged."—Franklin D. Roosevelt
"The freedom of the press and an able press are so ingrained as a part of American civilization that any enumeration of its value seems unnecessary."—Herbert Hoover
"And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."—John 8:32
"Congress shall make no law respect-

What Happens When Newspapers Stop?
What happens when there are no newspapers?

This is National Newspaper Week and a good time to think about just that. To really find out you'd have to visit a country where newspapers are either non-existent or censored. But most of these nations, by a not-so-strange coincidence, are also run by dictators who would probably refuse to let you in.

There's an easier way. Talk to someone from New York City, which was "blacked out" by a newspaper strike about a year ago.

Television's Dorothy Kilgallen summed it up pretty well. "Nothing could quite take the place of the newspaper, nothing could do all the things—the routine things, the odd things, the amusing things—that the newspaper does in its many different ways for its readers. With one woman said, 'Even if the news is bad, I guess I want to know it; another—a girl at a cigarette counter—said, 'Wouldn't you hate to get married now? You can't even get your name in the paper and I don't know how else I'll ever do it.'"

The strike lasted only 11 days, not long enough for unscrupulous politicians to take advantage of public ignorance. Since it was a peacetime there was no enemy to stir up panic through uncontrolled rumor and falsehood; there was no forthcoming election to perhaps go the wrong way because there were no newspapers to cover the political activity.

But just the same, 11 days was long enough to make everyone mighty uncomfortable. Unhappiest of all, perhaps, were the educational item in a family's existence. Where newspapers are free from government restriction, as they are here in the United States, you are free to select the reading matter of your choice. You are privileged to have a voice of protest. You are favored by having news of importance to you, personally, collected, verified, edited, and presented in readable and understandable form delivered to your home weekly.

The modern newspaper is a swift and an accurate purveyor of important factual data and a medium of considered, moderate and enlightened opinion.

The newspapers of America set aside this week, therefore, to call attention to the services they perform. But more than that they set aside to remind themselves and their readers of the obligation they owe the American public.

It is their constant hope that the reading public will continue to trust the integrity of their services. It is their constant effort to maintain the standards which have made this nation, more than all others, a nation of newspaper readers.

National Newspaper Week, therefore, is not an occasion for self-praise by newspapers nearly so much as it is an occasion for self-appraisal. It is a time for newspapers over the land to dedicate themselves to the trust placed in them by the vast, intelligent, progressive and enlightened American public.

"I disapprove of what you say, but I will defend to the death your right to say it."—Voltaire
"Four hostile newspapers are more to be feared than a thousand bayonets."—Napoleon
"And were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers or newspapers without government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."—Thomas Jefferson
"Our liberty depends on freedom of the press and that cannot be limited without being lost."—Thomas Jefferson merchants—caught with Christmas sales "ready-to-go" and no newspaper ads to bring customers to their stores. One merchant put it quite neatly: "If I can't advertise, I'm dead."

Men without work learned how much the "help wanted" ads could mean. Bevo Francis, the sensational basketball player found himself playing before a surprisingly small crowd in Madison Square Garden in his new York debut—no newspaper stories ahead of time. Radio and TV, without newspaper "logs," depended on hunt-and-fish audiences.

One newspaper reported many husbands and wives, with no papers to read, getting into fights out of sheer boredom. And so on down the line. Nearly everyone in the vast metropolis discovered things he had forgotten about how much the newspaper meant to him. The entire city began to feel as if the carrier boy had thrown the paper on top the roof—and at the neighbor's too, so there was none to borrow.

Radio and television did their best to "fill in" for the absent newspapers. But news-hungry listeners found themselves getting just the highlights of a few big stories over and over, when they wanted all the details. Time was the big bugaboo. Radio and TV couldn't reach all listeners at once, and had to keep repeating themselves for those who had just tuned in.

Too, a 15-minute newscast was woefully short. One analysis showed it would take an announcer nearly five hours to read all the news from one daily newspaper. Only in the newspaper can the reader do his own selecting of what interests him and what doesn't.

Country Newspaper
I am a country newspaper.
I am the friend of the family, the bringer of tidings from other friends; I speak to the home in town, my readers are more than those in the school. Young and old alike find in me stimulation, solace, comfort.
I am the chronicler of man's existence. I am the word of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community in the archives of state and nation. I am the lives of my readers.
I take the country newspaper.

Digestive System Of Honeyguide Under Army Study

WASHINGTON—One of the world's most fantastic birds, the African greater honeyguide, is distinctly related to the North American woodpeckers. The honeyguide is one of two known living creatures that can digest wax, the principal food which it obtains from bees' nests. Living specimens of these birds will be studied at the Army Medical Center to determine what makes this digestion possible.

It is hoped to find intestinal microorganisms, possibly of some unknown species, or hitherto unknown enzymes. If they can be isolated, they may have a role in aiding medication aspects of the treatment of tuberculosis. In Africa, the honeyguide leads natives to the location of a bees' nest. Since the nest must be broken open, the bird's reputation is well established and a store of honey is eagerly desired by the natives. The bird will fly a short distance, wait for the man who is following, and then make another short flight. It takes no chances on the honey hunter losing the trail.

Runaway Problem Seen in Study

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Some indication of the size and importance of the problem of runaway children may be given by a recent study made on this subject in Pennsylvania. The study was made by the Division of Rural Child Welfare of the State Department of Welfare. In most states, runaways are legally classified as delinquents. The Pennsylvania study reveals that in 1953 an estimated 645 runaway children under the age 16 from other states were found in Pennsylvania, including one from Hawaii and one from Puerto Rico, and 143 children were returned to Pennsylvania from other states. Both of these figures are thought to be underestimates. It is a common practice for police and other agencies that find runaway children to return them to their homes without referral to the police department or other agency in their home communities; often no official record or count of them is kept.

The Pennsylvania study may be of interest and value to other States that have felt need to assess their runaway problem. The report tells how the survey was made and gives data on what is done with runaway children when they are found and what services are available to help them.

Large-Loss Fires Threat to Economy

NEW YORK—Large-loss fires have serious effect on the nation's economy and pose a threat to our defense potential, say Fire Protection Engineers. A large-loss fire is one that destroys property worth $250,000 or more, and the nation is presently having about 300 such fires annually. While these represent only a small fraction of one per cent of the total number of fires in the United States, they account for about 24 per cent of the nation's dollar fire loss, which last year amounted to $903 million. Such large-loss fires are indicative of the trend away from city conflagrations, typical of which was the Baltimore fire of 50 years ago that burned out 60 blocks in the city's business district. The Baltimore loss was estimated at $50,000,000, the approximate equivalent of a single industrial fire last year.

13th Divorce Draws Comment From Judge

LOS ANGELES—The lady won her 13th divorce, but it brought some biting words from the judge. Mrs. Beverly Nina O'Malley, 44, was granted a divorce from Raymond J. O'Malley, No. 15, whom she accused of blacking her eyes, setting fire to her hair, tearing her clothing and burning her with a cigarette. "Marriage is a habit with this lady," Superior Judge Otto H. Hume said. "I don't suppose she will ever get out of the habit. Giving a divorce is only turning her loose to do it over again. However, I guess we might just as well let O'Malley out of the picture."

Older and Smarter

CHICAGO—Insurance underwriters say farm folk and small town city dwellers are better drivers than big city dwellers. If auto insurance rates are a guide, rates for small town and rural areas are 10 to 60 per cent lower than big city rates.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
 The name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe.—(Proverbs 18, 10.)

Often we encounter people who apparently ignore the Lord, who even blaspheme His holy name, and we observe that nevertheless their life is full of peace and joy. Truly, there are no things as compared with the peace of soul and mind, the real and lasting happiness, of the righteous who live in God.

Miss Aline Carroll Weds
 The marriage of Miss Aline Carroll and William Donald Lee was solemnized in the Methodist Church Sunday, Sept. 5 at 4 o'clock in the afternoon with Rev. Edwin T. Edgar performing the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Auburn Carroll, Rt. 2, Troy. Mr. Lee is the son of Mr. & Mrs. Fountain Lee of Rt. 5, Elba.

In the sanctuary of the church palms and branched candelabras holding white candles made the background for masses of white asters, chrysanthemums and gladioli.

Miss Rosa Deal, cousin of the groom, presented a program of organ music.

Mrs. James Devane sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her wedding dress was of tulle and chintilly lace, designed with a close-fitting bodice and full-length ballerina skirt. Her finger length holding white candles made the background for masses of white asters, chrysanthemums and gladioli.

SOIL CONSERVATION
 L. L. Ballard, Perry Store community, is getting ready to over seed his bahia grass with crimson clover. He has purchased the rangements were used on the punch table. Serving were Mrs. John Glen Lee, Mrs. Fountain Edward Lee, Mrs. Henry Dorsey, Mrs. Donald Kelley, Mrs. Ira Wilson Thompson, Misses Linda Lee, Genny Lee and Henriette Dorsey.

Following a wedding trip, Mr. & Mrs. Lee returned to Auburn where Mr. Lee is a senior at A. P. T.

Nov. 1 with a grain drill. This is one of the best ways of planting clover or other seed on a sod. Crimson clover planted on a grass sod will furnish nitrogen for the grass as well as good winter grazing.

Other crops Mr. Ballard is using for winter grazing are oats and rye. He is fertilizing with 400 lbs of 4-10-7 under crops at planting time. Seeding will be done with three bushels of oats or one and one-half bushels of rye per acre. When oats and rye are up to a good stand he will top dress with 100 pounds of ammonium nitrate or 200 lbs. of nitrate of soda per acre. This will furnish some early grazing. Soil Conservation pays. Research by Soil Conservation Service and state college experiment stations show that soil and water conservation usually increases yields and income the first year it is applied. The experiences of thousands of farmers show the same thing. As time passes, the benefits increase.
